Foreword

Springfield High School has begun its second century. Many students at S.H.S. do not realize that they are setting the pace for generations yet to come.

Springfield High still has some of its first clubs. Students, after receiving their college degrees, have come back to teach here. But S.H.S. is ever changing, by the addition not only of new clubs, but also of new teachers.

The teaching facilities have been changed to provide students with a broader background. The vocational department has new equipment to give the students a chance for job experience. The humanities, mathematics, and science departments have accelerated programs for college-bound students.

Yes, the sun rises, but it never really sets, because S.H.S. keeps pace with the city and the world. The students' life at S.H.S. is only a beginning — an introduction — for the future.

Will you ever forget world history, especially
mr. Souinski? Best of luck
always. Jean Cook

SPRINGFIELD

THE LAST LAUGH!
. . . on a Century

First down, goal to go!

Relax! This test doesn't really mean much.

S.H.S. students are sports fans, whether they are merely spectators or actual participators. At football games on a cold fall evening or at basketball games in a hot gymnasium, the cheerleaders lead the crowd in roaring SUCCESS. After the excitement of the game, the week follows with tests and the more serious thoughts of preparing for the future.

Are you sure that's the way it is at college?

Hey, hey! Let's get that jump ball!

S-U-C-C-E-S-S

What a ham!

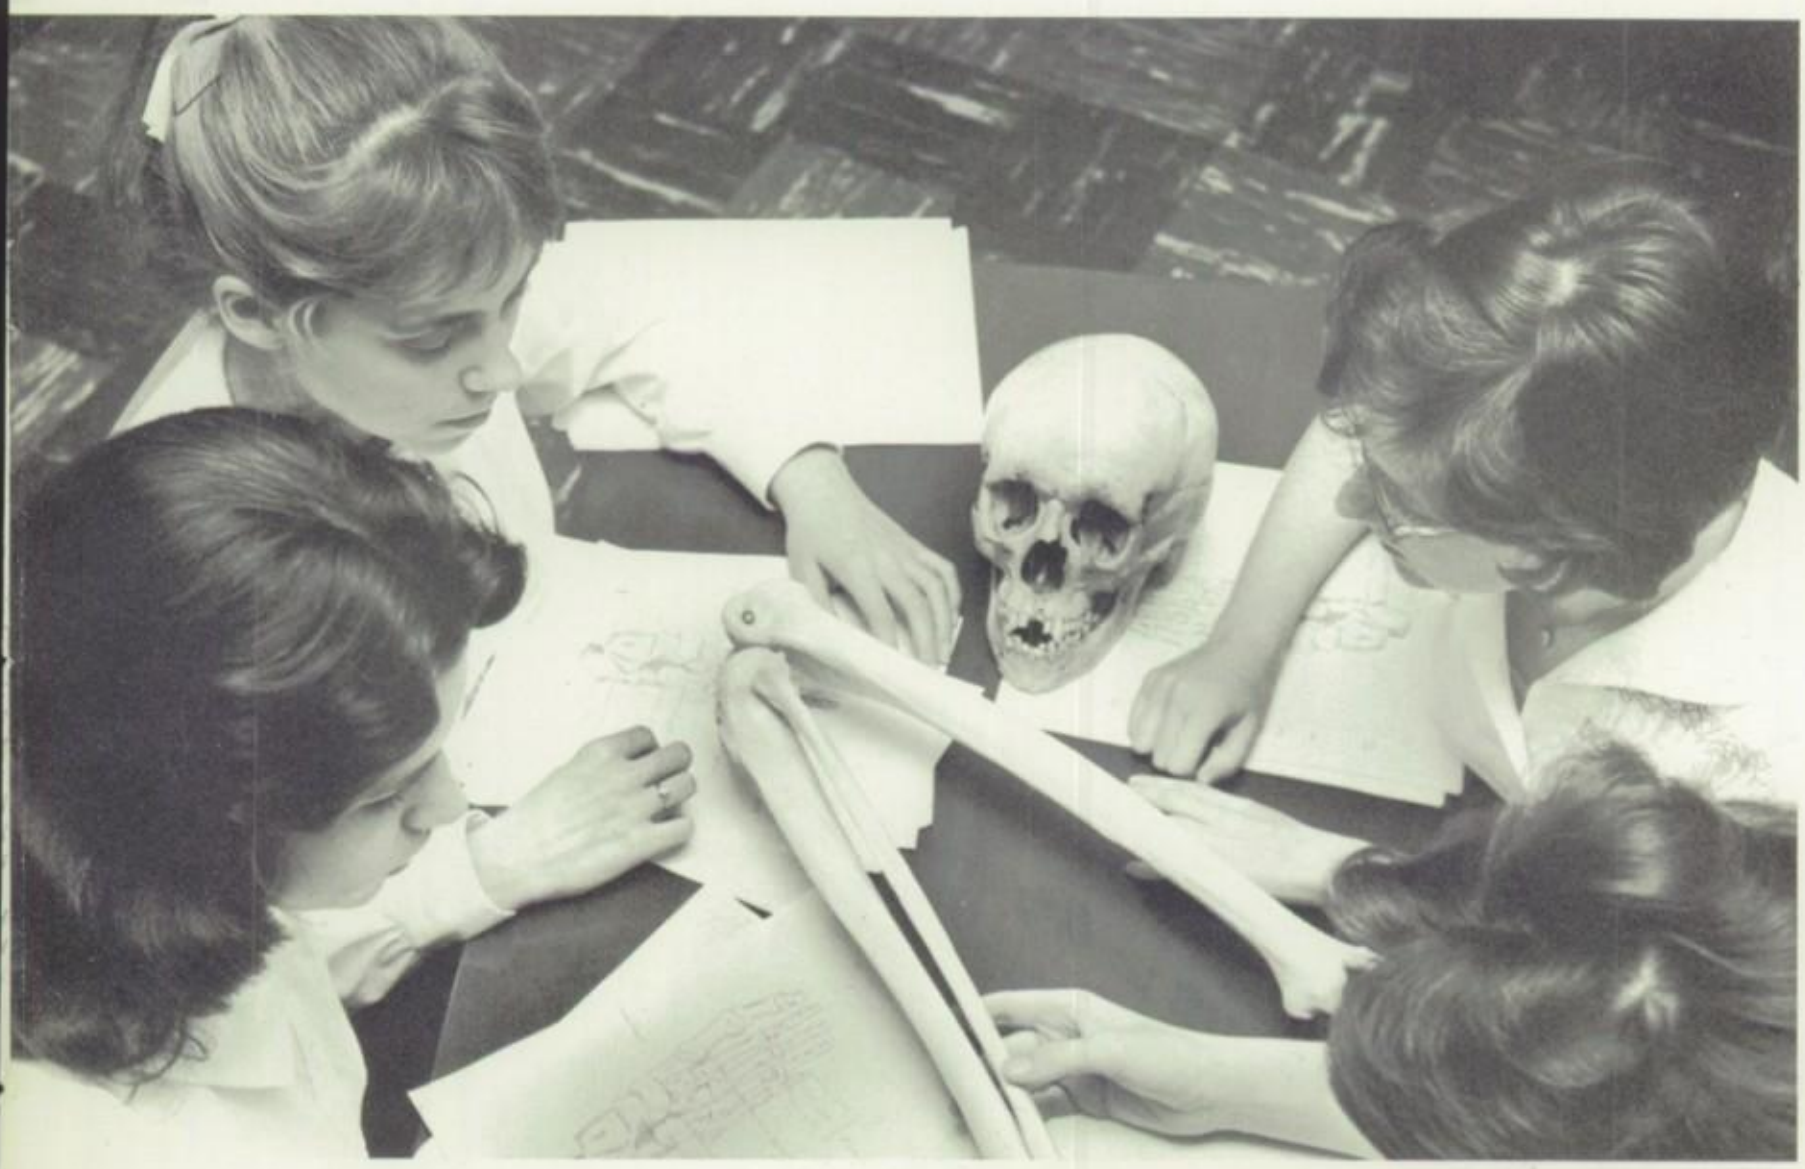
Food, fun, and fellowship

I'll give you your ballot as soon as I find your name.

Let's show the team we're behind them.

Watch out for that wicked serve!

Variety is the spice of life for the S.H.S. student. The search for knowledge is pursued in the classroom, and an outlet for extra energy is pursued by participation in extracurricular activities. Food and fellowship are found in the cafeteria during the noon hour. While the old is observed in studies, new excitement and tradition evolve when the S.H.S. student backs his basketball team, votes in an election, or gives his talents to the newly-formed swim team.



Are you sure that's the fibula?

John Turner
Assistant Principal

Three years ago I was pleased to find that it was Senator-like to be sensitive to the challenge inherent in a difficult task; this sensitivity has not diminished. It is indeed gratifying to see teacher and SENATORS tackling difficult problems in a deliberate and thoughtful manner with a concern for the best interests of the future as well as the present. In the deliberations I have been gratified with the concern for the dignity of man and ethical values of life. Then, too, altruistic values are in evidence; in this respect, may I cite the Capitoline staff for not only working for an outstanding yearbook but for their plans for reducing the indebtedness which will benefit SENATORS of the future.

I trust that every teacher and SENATOR who has contributed in a manner described above for the improvement of Springfield High will find a deep feeling of personal satisfaction.

Counselors

Springfield High School has dedicated, informed counselors, who help the students get maximum benefits from their lives at S.H.S. Schedules are carefully planned so that all needed courses are somehow worked in. The counselors also advise students on extra-curricular activities and spend many hours helping them make after-graduation plans. Information concerning careers and colleges is always available in their offices. The counselors' aim is to help students both academically and personally.

The Humanities

The Humanities Division was formed at S.H.S. during 1959 by combining its English, language, and social science departments into one division with Mr. Croft as the division chairman.

In the sophomore English classes the student learns journalism and literature. As a second semester junior, the student may take English literature, a two semester course. The senior has a choice of a wide variety of courses; English composition, American literature, world literature, speech, and drama. Also new this year are the reading acceleration and writing improvement courses.

The social science department includes such courses as world history, American history, American government, economics, world affairs, and geography. The American history student may enroll in an accelerated program that may give him advance placement in college.

The language department provides the student not only with the classical Latin, but also with French, Spanish, and German.

The Humanities Division is widening its scope in many ways to give the student a broader background for his life ahead.

Mathematics

The mathematics department is versatile as well as of very high caliber. Course offerings range from beginning algebra to college level courses which include trigonometry, analytical geometry, and college algebra, enabling a student interested in engineering, science, or further mathematics to enter college with advancd standing up to the sophomore level.

The regular mathematics student usually elects two years of Senior High Mathematics after beginning algebra in the Junior High while students interested in the accelerated program are recommended for three years including an integrated one year course in plane and solid geometry, intermediate algebra, college level trigonometry, and college algebra. Further electives include statistics and analytical geometry, the latter being an honor course.

Science

Springfield High is fortunate in having a science department with up-to-date facilities and teachers who keep abreast with the changes of today. Our teachers participate in National Science Foundation Institutes and also help the students to richer experiences through the Science Seminars.

The department is one of the few in Illinois that offers botany, physiology, and zoology as individual courses. Accelerated classes in biology, chemistry, and physics are taught at college level as well as on the standard course level.

Industrial Arts

Industrial arts is a study of man's effort to change raw materials to a form of higher value, and of the problems of life related to these changes.

In general, industrial arts may be said to: (1) furnish training in unspecialized practical activities, and, (2) give a certain amount of concrete insight in the nature of tools, machines, forces, appliances, raw materials, and processes.

Since modern environment is so highly industrialized, and the processes, materials, and products of industry play such an important role in modern living, industrial arts is essential to the education of all youth. Its function in the curriculum is to deal with these processes, materials, and products of industry so that the pupils will come to understand the industry to the extent that they will be able, now and in later life, to deal with it intelligently and effectively.

Commercial

In Springfield High School's commercial department, students may take courses in typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, and office practice. Physical Education

Our four physical education teachers at S.H.S. are doing their best to comply with President Kennedy's physical fitness program.

The department offers a great variety of sports and other activities to create the "student image." The girls race on "postage stamp" pieces of wood on wheels, build muscles by exercising, run around the track, and make use of the trampoline.

On the other side of the "iron curtain," the boys' activities include counting push-ups, rope climbing, and playing basketball and football.

Finally, in both gyms, can be heard the inevitable word, "Showers!"

Only a thousand more jumps 'til showers.

Dinners turn out well time after time.

Home Economics

Springfield High School's home economics department is superior. Four years of "foods" is offered, and home ec. students may take six semesters of "clothing." These courses offer an opportunity to prepare for a career in dietetics or fashion and for a future in homemaking. Seniors may also take a home management course or a one semester class in family living. These are concerned directly with marriage and household management. The department also has excellent modern laboratory facilities, with which students learn how to efficiently use today's appliances.

Fine Arts

The fine arts program at SHS is a program devised to give students a background in all phases of the arts and music.

It is divided into four major areas: General art under Mrs. Lawrence; orchestra under Mr. Bowen; vocal instruction and chorus under Mr. Spreckelmeyer; and the band under Mr. Conovay.

Each year, the SHS band makes twenty to thirty public appearances encompassing a wide range of musical demands which include performances at athletic events, parades, and formal concerts.

The SHS orchestra had a busy program this year. A special "Under the Dome" Christmas concert was given at the State Capital building and several performances were given by the string section at convalescent homes.

Mr. Spreckelmeyer has had probably the most active schedule of all. He has led the A Cappella choir through many appearances and has prepared the Singing Seven to give forty-two public performances. The mixed choirs, girls' choirs, and the Singing Senators were also very active.

All three of the music departments gave a Spring Concert, and the orchestra and band participated in commencement activities.

The art department, under the capable direction of Mrs. Lawrence, is divided into four different levels, ranging from courses in elementary principles, to highly advanced studio work.

The Fine Arts courses, the art department in particular, endeavor not to merely train students to become artists and musicians, but to train them to think creatively and to enrich their future lives.

Conducting the affairs and interests of the S.H.S. student body has been the function of the Student Council and its seventy-four members. This year the Student Council has sponsored Career Day, College Day, the new College Student Day, and the bus reservations. The members published the Senator's Key, and helped with the Intra-City Student Directory. Without the organization, S.H.S. would not have an A.F.S. Exchange Student, or sponsor a Filipino child in the Foster Parent's Program. Homecoming, the Variety Show, the Can and a Dime Drive, the Peanuts for Polio, and the newly organized Pep Club have also been sponsored or helped by the S.H.S. Student Council.

Philos

Philos is an organization for girls founded by the English department. As a result, it presents an annual award to the person who obtains the highest grade point average in English for three years. Philos has sold a new type of Senator pin and plans to sponsor an annual dance. The Club's members have also become animal lovers, for they contributed help to clean and paint at the animal shelter. I wonder if any puppy found a new home?

Cafeteria Council

The Cafeteria Council is an important organization in Springfield High School. It sponsors many beneficial activities. The most remembered is the fascinating assembly on hypnotism. Oh, those brave people! The club also sponsors a breakfast for all the Cafeteria members from the other schools in Springfield, the A.F.S. free lunches, and the Thanksgiving baskets.

Junior Capitoline

The Junior Capitoline symbolizes the rising sun by allowing a limited number of sophomores to enter the club for the purpose of preparing themselves for the task of publishing their yearbook. The organization, responsible for obtaining acknowledgments for the Capitoline, helped to create the All-City Student Directory by submitting the Springfield section. The members also assisted in the arrangement of the class pictures and helped to raise money for the Capitoline.

The Senator

The members of the SHS school newspaper have helped the sun to rise higher for the class of 1962. New equipment to publish the Senator was installed in the school last fall. The Staff members are learning to operate the various machines and are experimenting with various methods in publishing a newspaper of which SHS students are very proud. One important improvement, a new banner, was created while members were rushing to meet deadlines for the twelve issues to be published.

The Capitoline Staff

The student body is often unaware of the constant "action behind the scenes" involved in producing a yearbook. In the departments of editor, business, sports, photo, art, copy, senior editors, typist, and general staff, the members work together to originate a Capitoline worthy of school pride. This year, for the first time, sophomores and juniors were added to the staff in the art and copy areas. The 1962 Capitoline staff is paving the way to future issues by hard work and perseverance.

Faculty Advisory Council

The Faculty Advisory Council was established to serve two purposes: To plan for the monthly faculty meetings; and, to advise the principal and assistant principal on matters relating to the over-all effectiveness and efficiency of Springfield High School.

The members of the F.A.C. are expected to take a global view, in this sense, they do not represent a specific department. Members are elected at large by fellow teachers and serve for a period of three years.

At the end of the second term, second semester, seniors become eligible for National Honor Society. Nominated by a special board, these students are recognized for character, scholarship, leadership, and service. However, these students may comprise no more than 15% of the graduating class. Persons chosen for the Society are students of whom our school can be proud. Membership in this organization should be a goal of every student.

Pep Club

Newly established this year, Pep Club was a great asset in increasing school spirit. The club suffered growing pains, but with the help of the devoted advisors and the Pep Club committee, these are being overcome. Members of the club are required to attend Wednesday practice sessions and home games, wearing their Pep Club letters. Next year the Pep Club will again be ready to cheer our teams on to more victories.

It was a rainy night — the night we beat highly rated Urbana.

After a virus-caused loss to Griffin in the opening game, the Senators rolled up impressive victories against Feitshans (34—0), Lincoln (9—7), Lanphier (20—0), and Danville (14—12).

The highlight of the season was the 13—6 victory over highly-rated, undefeated Urbana. Showing the terrific determination needed to win the game, the Solon's defensive unit held the Tigers to only one touchdown, scored early in the first period. Our offensive platoon was able to enter the scoring column twice; once in the second period, and again in the third. Urbana was in scoring position with only five seconds remaining, but again, the fine defense was able to "hold that line."

Although the Senators suffered disappointing losses to MacArthur, Bloomington, and Decatur, this year's team showed signs of greatness and noticeable improvement throughout the early games.

The Cross Country squad had one of its most successful seasons ever, compiling a dual meet record of 9 and 0. They won the City Championship, finished third in the Conference, and won the District Championship.

Individually, we had the City, Conference, and District Champion in Jan Bridges as he established course records at Tri City, Champaign, and at home. Four lettermen form the nucleus of next year's squad.

Varsity letter winners were: Seniors Jan Bridges, Rusty Cotton, Jack Downs, and Rich Haak; Juniors Al Ice, and George Vernan; Sophomores John Prillaman and Gary Williams.

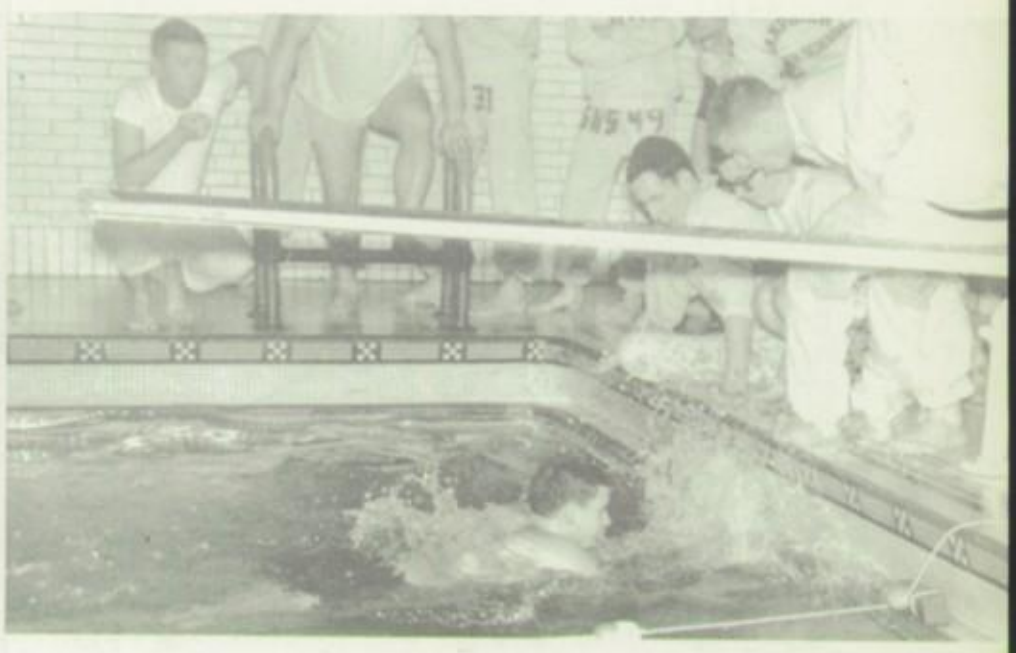
Bob Holladay displays his diving skills.



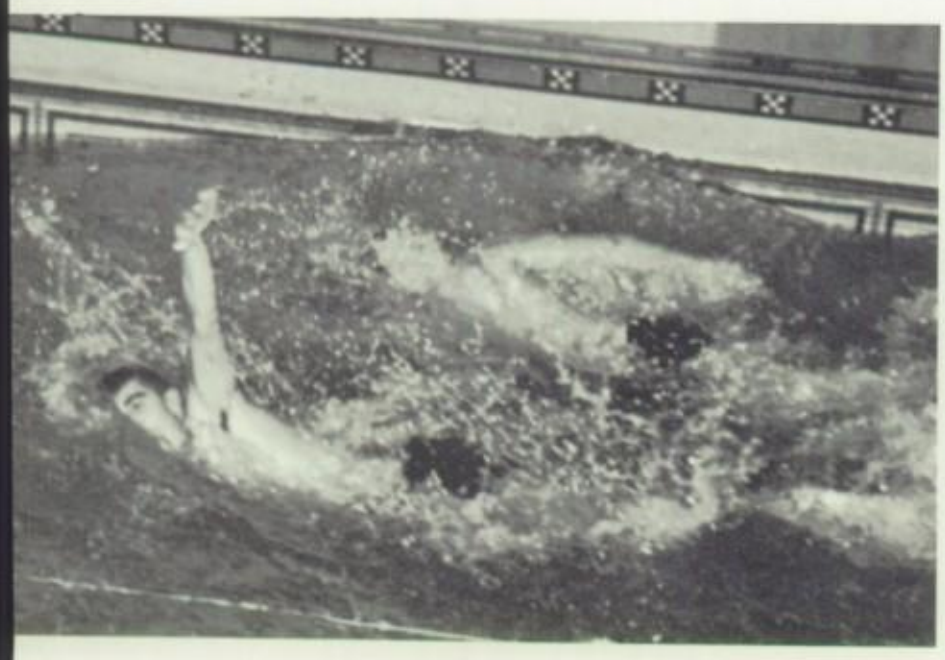
The team encourages the swimmer.

This was the first year for swimming as a competitive sport in the Springfield school system. The Senators, coached by Mr. Richard Waughop, scored a record of 4 wins and 2 losses. Inexperienced against other state-wide competition, SHS placed 5th in the Big 12, 8th in the District, and scored no points in the state meet.

Included in the list of successful meets was the city meet, in which the Senators won all events except diving, becoming the first city swimming champions.

The Solons, lead by seniors Bruce Newell, Bob Wanless, Bill Dean, and Bob Holladay, hold five records at the home pool at the Knights of Columbus building. Newell holds two records — 18.0 seconds for the 40-yard freestyle and 52.9 seconds for the 100-yard freestyle. Wanless holds the record of 1 minute 10 seconds for the 100-yard breaststroke. Springfield's medley relay team of Dave Marko, Bob Wanless, Chip Shuster, and Bruce Newell hold the record of 1:27.5 for that 160-yard event. The freestyle relay team (John Volle, Bill Dean, Bruce Newell, and Bob Wanless) holds the 1:17 record for that race.

Is our team ahead?



Bruce Newell begins another race.

Wrestling '62

This year's wrestling squad, coached by Charles Robinson, did well in tournament meets, and improved greatly over last season. In the city tournament the squad tied with Lanphier and beat Feitshans, who has had many more years experience than Springfield High.

Everyone competed in the District wrestling meet held at Lanphier High School. Gerald Aldrich and John Sullivan took first place in their divisions, and Ron Ruby took third place in his.

Aldrich and Sullivan were then qualified to compete in the sectional meet at Granite City, in which Aldrich won third place. Sullivan took second, which made him eligible for the state wrestling meet at Arlington Heights.

The Senators worked hard all season compiling a final 17—12 won-loss record for an average of .586. Getting off to a slow start, the Senators lost six of the first ten games. When City Tournament started, SHS was rated second behind Lanphier; but the boys came through in fine style and won three straight ball games. The team seemed to jell during the tournament, and we won ten of our remaining sixteen games.

In our second game with Decatur, we defeated them by sixteen points, 65—49. The loser went on to capture the crown of the State Champion.

For the sixth consecutive year, the Senators were in state basketball competition. We won the regional tournament, went to the sectional at Jacksonville and gained honor of becoming one of the sixteen best teams in the state, before the season ended at Quincy.

Singing Seven

The Singing Seven is one of the outstanding public relations groups of S.H.S. On its schedule this year were numerous concerts for civic organizations and clubs of many types. They sang at state conventions and appeared on both radio and television broadcasts. All S.H.S. students will remember their performance in the annual Christmas program.

The girls composing this select group of seven and one pianist are judged and chosen not only on their vocal ability, but also on their personality, poise, and appearance. Usually, the girls have had one or more years of experience with the A Cappella Choir. As one can readily see, it is quite an honor and privilege to be selected for this group. Clad in red dresses and with smiling faces, the Singing Seven is a good representation to the public of the Springfield High School student body.

Homecoming 1961

This year's Homecoming Weekend got off to a "Soggy" start with the rained-out bonfire on Thursday night. After pouring all day, the rain subsided long enough to start the fire; however again the rains came and put an end to the opening Homecoming activity.

The school Pep Rally on Friday led into the parade and finally the game that night. The parade to Memorial Field was a memorable experience with the use of floats for the first time in recent years.

The hardluck Senators gave up two touchdowns in the first half, but were able to hold a scoreless deadlock in the second. Although the 14—0 loss the night before hampered spirits somewhat, the Saturday night dance was a tremendous success. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the 1961 Homecoming King and Queen; John Sullivan and Judy Brewer. Other members of the court were Seniors Jill Walko, Roger Douglass, Barbara Tomlinson, Bob Harmon, Ann Smith, and Bruce Newell, and Juniors Carol Goodman, Jerry Saladino, Pam Romence, and Don Blanchard. It was a fitting end for a hard-fought weekend.

The Symbols

1962 Commencement

Can we help you, Jack?

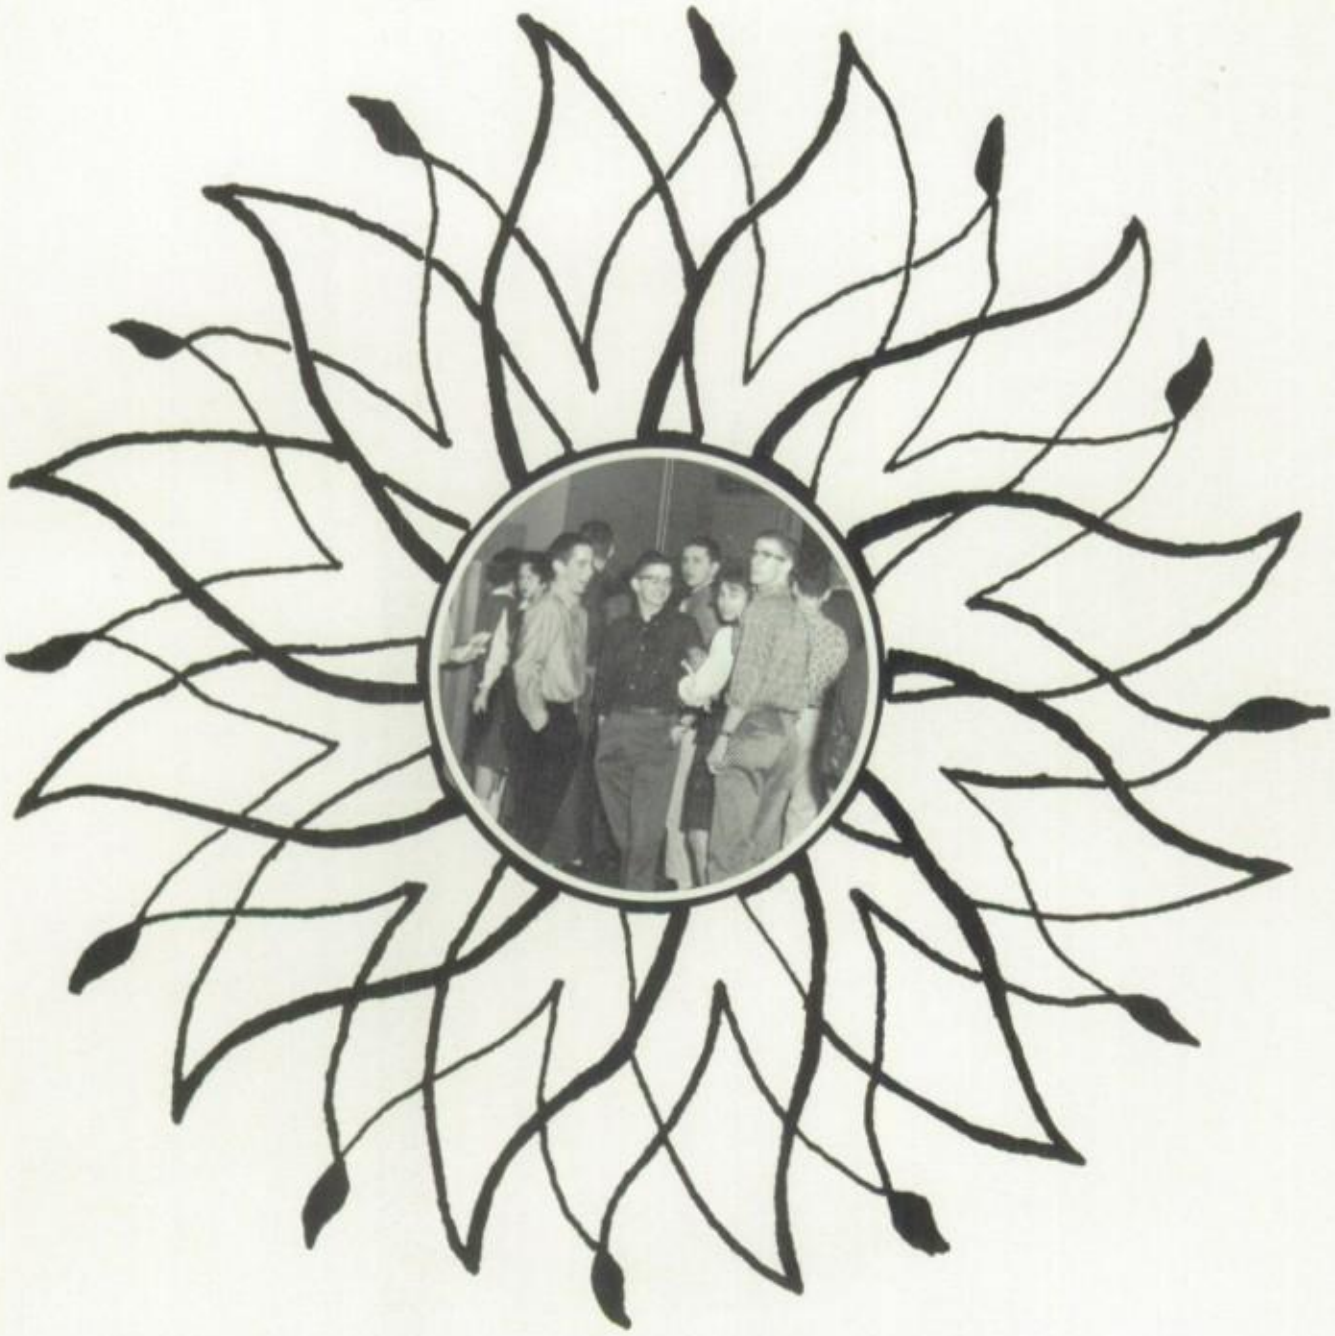
Don Crown and Julie Wanless speak at graduation.

A feeling of pride upon graduating.

A feeling of accomplishment.

A last look from these portals.

Well, Phil, we finally made it!



Students

Phil Bradley, Treasurer
Julie Marriott, Secretary

Dan Stapleton, President
Barb Tomlinson, Vice President

Seniors

When we first entered S.H.S. three years ago, there seemed to be an interminable amount of time until we would graduate. This seemingly vast expanse of time has sped by much too quickly. As we retrospect on the many athletic contests we have witnessed, and on the classrooms where we have acquired knowledge invaluable to our education, we are rather sad that it is ending.

During the past year, the Senior Class has been engaged in many activities such as the Senior Class Play, preparing for the Prom, selecting colleges to be attended, and innumerable others. All of these tasks have been performed with a spirit of enthusiasm which has built a successful class.

Springfield High has not only been a grounds for scholarship, but also has proved a worthy teacher in other aspects such as shaping our ideals and broadening our views on life. All of this in addition to the victories, the defeats, the friendships, and the romances will be fondly remembered when we look back on S.H.S. and the class of '62.

When I stop to think about everything that has happened since I came to Springfield last summer, I can hardly believe that my year as an AFSer is almost through and in a few months I have to go back to Brazil. It is just like a dream that has to end sometime. My staying in Springfield has been the most wonderful experience of all my life, and it has given me an unforgettable opportunity to know the American life as well as to participate in it. I had always believed that understanding is the most important thing in the world, and that young people always understand each other wherever they are; my acquaintance with American teenagers has proved it. The wonderful spirit of S.H.S. became a part of me, and as a Senator I say: Friends from Springfield, I shall never forget you. Springfield High, I thank you!

Don Crown

Last summer I was fortunate enough to represent the American Field Service in Belgium. This three month period, ephemeral but eventful, was undoubtedly the finest experience of my life. It was not something tangible such as reading a "deep" book or attending a concert, but rather inclusion in another culture, an opportunity to witness basic human emotions reacting in a different atmosphere. Living, working, and relaxing with a wonderful family of seven, the Narter Familie of Hasselt, proved that old saying: "people are people the world over."

We, the members of the class of '63, have now passed the medium of our high school years — the junior year. With the excitement of the first year behind us and that of the senior year to come, the junior year is seemingly a year of recess. This was not actually so in the case of our junior class. In many aspects the presence of the junior class was felt throughout S.H.S. Junior Senators excelled in physical as well as mental activities. They played a superlative role in athletic contests as well as in the classroom.

Among the various class projects were a bake sale and a very successful after game dance.

Thus far, many accomplishments have been made by the class of '63 and more are yet to come as we strive to uphold the ideals of S.H.S. during our senior year.

The ratio of girls to boys —

And so, consequently . . .

Dave Grebler ... President; Anne Byerly ... Secretary; Janet Yantis ... Treasurer; John Mullaney ... Vice President.

Sophomores

The sophomore class of 1961-62 entered Springfield High filled with enthusiasm, quickly accepting the ideals of SHS as their own and becoming an active part of the student body. Now many individuals represent the Sophomore class in all phases of Springfield High.

The Sophomores showed their interest in early activities by building the winning float at homecoming. Work on this project was shared by many. An after game dance and May Festival project were also included in our activities.

As we look forward to our junior and senior years with increased knowledge and age, we pledge to maintain the standard of Springfield High School to the best of our ability so that our high school careers may be as successful as those of the seniors who graduate before us.

Sue, To bad (for our class mates) that we ever met in the sixth grade. Remember all the slumber parties and nites we stayed up all nite at each others houses. Wonder if either one of us will ever find that certain someone. (after all our many romances) Hope your three years at S.H.S will be happy. (happier than mine, anyway) Hope all the happiness come to you in the future.

From the Editors . . .

Good luck on your invite and anything else you attempt to do. Your the only person I have ever met who is close to what I am like.

Friends always,
Jan M.

Another issue of the Capitoline makes its bow. Each year the Staff strives to excel, and this ambition is most laudable; for it is natural to want to improve. It must also be remembered that each succeeding Staff benefits from the past. Those who have gone before are honored by the success of those who follow.

The yearbook of 1962 is a product of much painstaking and efficient work on the part of those to whom the work was entrusted. The Staff could not have compiled such a worthy book without the hearty support and help of Mrs. Frances Hufstedler and Mr. Bill Chalk of American Yearbook Company, Mr. William Snell of The S. K. Smith Company, and Mr. Hans Anker of the Anker Studio.

The production of the 1962 Capitoline is complete. The success of this book is now up to you, its readers.

Sue,
Well, it looks like you've got him now. I wish you all the luck to. I'm sure glad we turned out to be friends instead of enemies!! Lets go and have lots of fun this summer ok? Thanks for the Boze!

Your friend always
Linda Campbell

Sue,
I hope that you get everything you want out of your senior year (you deserve it) and it you can figure out what the heck you're doing in this idiotic history course, you're psychic!
Randi Carson

Sue,
Good luck with all of your friends, especially that short, little Bob chick; and good luck throughout your life. Remember the "bug" on the front at my house in 4th grade.
Barb (sock)

Sue,
I remember when we were in first grade at DuBois and everyone used to come play on your swings. Those were the good 'ol days! Spray your silver streak in for me sometime.
Patsy Moore

A. Kevin

Sue,
Sure hope we have just as much fun in future as we have had in the past. I know we will remember Oct. 6 just as long as we dare. Good luck in the next 2 yrs. and be sure to be in by 3:30 P.M.

Lots of Luck
Julie

Sue,
Thanks for the fun behind the wheel this summer. I couldn't have asked for a better partner. Keep up the good work.
Pete O. Thomas

Sue,
Stay as you are.
Best wishes always
Rosie

Dear Sue,
Do as you please.
Love ya,
Mary
